An unlawful pattern or practice already exists among named University of Washington administrators and faculty members who have attempted to flood the web site, destroy databases, damage computer servers, or otherwise interfere with publication of Contra Cabal. Any attempt to continue that practice, or indulge in prior restraint by other means, will immediately become subject to reports to Federal Bureau of Investigation. Contra Cabal uses secure servers and detection software to expose malfeasance - Mark Emmert, take notice and be warned!

Contra Cabal electronic magazine contains exposé and satire. Probably one of the first to appear on the web it has published since 1992. The hits/month now range between 100,000 and 150,000 with more than 1.5 million hits by about 60,000 unique visitors during the past twelve months.

Contra Cabal Foundation

Contra Cabal web sites have achieved an extraordinary readership. If Paul Trummel dies before he completes his work, then trustees have authority to continue publication as an educational project through the newly formed Contra Cabal Foundation, London which will own all publication rights. The Foundation will publish Contra Cabal in perpetuity in the way that Sonia Orwell posthumously published the collected works of George Orwell.

Foundation trustees and directors (professional people, lawyers, and academicians in UK and US connected directly and indirectly with the International Federation of Journalists) will supervise editorial and design functions using young investigative reporters and graphic designers who wish to further their education in journalism. They will receive trade union freelance rates of payment for their work.

The Foundation will respect former trustee the late William D Winn's last admonition "Go get 'em!" by continuing to report academic malfeasance and to expose morally repugnant academicians and public officials.
